This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on two or three chapters of Anne of Green Gables and is comprised of four different activities:

1. Before You Read
2. Vocabulary Building

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to the following:

a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
c) compare and contrast two characters;
d) determine how characters … respond to challenges;
e) drawing inferences from the text;
f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. It is important, too, that students be encouraged to relate their own feelings and experiences in certain contexts, and describe their own interpretations of particular passages.

- Students can work on the activities at their own pace.
- Every activity need not be completed by all students.
- A portfolio cover is included (p.7) as well as a Checklist (p.6) to keep a record of completed work.

Themes and topics which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include Prince Edward Island, the importance of imagination and its conflict with social expectations, farming and agriculture, the importance of friends and family, perseverance and personal growth, overcoming difficulty, courage.

Author Biography
L. M. Montgomery

L.M. Montgomery was born in Clifton (now New London), Prince Edward Island, on November 30, 1874. When she was 21 months old, her mother died of tuberculosis. Her father left her in the care of her mother's parents. As an only child living with an elderly couple, Montgomery found companionship in her imagination, nature, books, and especially writing. When she was nine, she began writing poetry and keeping a journal. At the age of six, she began attending the one-room school near her grandparents' home in Cavendish. She completed grade ten in 1892-1893 and the following year she studied for a teacher's license at Prince of Wales College.

During her years in Cavendish, Montgomery continued to write and sent off numerous poems, stories, and serials to Canadian, British, and American magazines. In 1905, she wrote her first and most famous novel, Anne of Green Gables. Anne of Green Gables was first published in 1908 and became an immediate best-seller, which marked the beginning of her successful career as a novelist.

After Grandmother Macneill died in March of 1911, Montgomery married the Reverend Ewan Macdonald, to whom she had been secretly engaged since 1906. She bore three sons: Chester (1912), Hugh (stillborn in 1914), and Stuart (1915). Maud Montgomery Macdonald did not live on Prince Edward Island again, returning only for vacations. Maud Montgomery Macdonald died in Toronto, Ontario, on April 24, 1942; (Courtesy of the website: www.lmmontgomery.ca/aboutlmm/herlife)

Good to Know

Anne of Green Gables is set in Avonlea in Prince Edward Island. Although this community is fictitious, a number of actual towns are mentioned in this novel, including the capital, Charlottetown. Bright River, Matthew’s destination in Chapter One, is also fictitious, and is thought to represent the town of Hunter River.
A. Prince Edward Island

Prince Edward Island is Canada’s smallest – and probably its most beautiful province. Referred to as “The Garden of the Gulf”, P.E.I. is famous for its lush agricultural lands and rural beauty. It has a population of only about 140,000 (about the size of Chattanooga TN or Savannah GA) and an overall area of about 2,195 square miles (5,685 sq. km) (a little smaller than the state of Delaware).

Using resources in your school library or on the Internet do a further investigation of this remarkable little province. Your investigation should uncover at least three fascinating facts about the province and its people, as well as an appropriate picture.

3.
B. Choose ten words from these chapters with two or more syllables. Indicate the syllables by drawing a line between each syllable. Example: good / bye.

C. A simile is a comparison using the words “like” or “as”. We find an example of this in Chapter Two: “… black as a raven’s wing.”

In this example what two things are being compared?

Invent your own similes comparing the following items with something from your imagination:

a) the sound of a Matthew’s buggy as it trundles down the roadway

b) the smell of Marilla’s fresh-baked bread

c) your own example

Extension Activity

Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A storyboard can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel.

Complete the storyboard below illustrating the events described in the first two chapters of Anne of Green Gables. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.
