Suggestions and Expectations

This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on two or three chapters of From The Mixed-Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler and is comprised of five of the following different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities in this unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to:

a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;

b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;

c) compare and contrast two characters;

d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;

e) drawing inferences from the text;

f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Synopsis

Claudia knew that she could never pull off the old-fashioned kind of running away … so she decided to run not from somewhere but to somewhere – somewhere large, warm, comfortable, and beautiful. And that was how Claudia and her brother, Jamie, ended up living in the Metropolitan Museum of Art – and right in the middle of a mystery that made headlines. (Publisher – Simon and Schuster)

Author Biography

E.L. Konigsburg

Elaine Lobl Konigsburg (February 10, 1930 – April 19, 2013) was an American writer and illustrator of children's books and young adult fiction. She is one of six writers to win two Newbery Medals, the venerable American Library Association award for the year's "most distinguished contribution to American children's literature."

Konigsburg submitted her first two manuscripts to editor Jean Karl at Atheneum Publishers in 1966, and both were published in 1967: Jennifer, Hecate, Macbeth, William McKinley, and Me, Elizabeth and From The Mixed-Up Files of Mrs Basil E. Frankweiler. They made her the only person to be Newbery Medal winner and one of the runners-up in one year. She won again for The View from Saturday in 1997, 29 years later.

For her contribution as a children's writer Konigsburg was U.S. nominee in 2006 for the biennial, international Hans Christian Andersen Award.

Before you read the chapter:

Briefly predict what you believe the plot-line of our novel will be about.

Questions

1. Why did Claudia want to run to somewhere rather than from somewhere?

2. Why did Claudia give up her hot fudge sundaes for six weeks?

3. What item did Claudia find in a waste paper basket?

4. What made a lot of noise when Claudia and Jamie were sneaking off the bus?

5. Where did Claudia say they would hide in New York City?

6. When Claudia and Jamie decided to run away, they left behind many of the comforts and luxuries that are often found at home. Write a list of five different things that you feel would be difficult to live without, and why they are so important to you.
A. Foreshadowing is a literary device used by authors to provide clues for the reader so they are able to predict what might occur later in the story. How might the following quote from Chapter 1 be considered an example of this literary device: "I wish it could be Steve’s turn every week,” Kevin whined. “You just may get your wish.” Kevin never realized then or ever that he had been given a clue, and he pouted all the way home."

B. A simile is a comparison using the words “like” or “as”. An example from Chapter One is “Using the tips of her forefinger and thumb like a pair of forceps, she pulled at it and discovered a ten-ride pass for the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad.”

What two things are being compared in this example?

Invent two of your own similes comparing two different things using your own imagination:

b)
C. Pick A City, Any City.

Sports Cards have been a very popular collector’s item for nearly one hundred years. As a matter of fact, a Willie Mays 1952 Topps rookie baseball card is worth over $3000.00 today!

Wouldn’t it be great if a series of collectors cards were issued celebrating some of the world’s most fascinating cities?

Design an information card about a city of your own choosing. The back should include at least five interesting facts about the city, and the front of the card should feature an image or drawing of an object that you feel best identifies the city of your choice. (i.e. London=double-decker buses, Paris=Eiffel Tower, etc)

D. Where In The World?

Using resources from your school library or the Internet, do some research on the following works of art, and list which museum and country where the art is on display.

E. The Eight Parts of Speech

b) c)

d) e)

B. Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A storyboard can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel.

Complete the storyboard below illustrating the events described in the last 2 chapters of From The Mixed-Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.
