Suggestions and Expectations

This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on one chapter of Brian's Hunt and is comprised of five of the following different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to

- a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
- b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
- c) compare and contrast two characters;
- d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;
- e) drawing inferences from the text;
- f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Themes which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include living in the wilderness, wildlife of North America, conservation of one's natural resources, responsible hunting/fishing, courage and independence, personal growth.

Brian's Hunt

By Gary Paulsen

Synopsis

Brian paused. Something made him reach out and take a broadhead out of the quiver and lay it across the bow, even though the moment without paddling cost him his forward motion. He thought, This is silly, I'm being a worrywort, but positioned the bow close to him just the same.

Then dug with the paddle again, pulling hard for the island, the dog whimpering and growling. [The Publisher]

Chapter 1

Before you read the chapter:

The protagonist in most novels features the main character or “good guy”. The main character of Brian's Hunt is (of course) Brian, who ventures back into the Canadian wilderness two years after the harrowing adventures he endured in the novel, Hatchet. Think back on some of your favorite characters from past novels you have read or movies you’ve seen. What do you think makes for an especially interesting protagonist?

Vocabulary:

Choose a word from the list to complete each sentence.

evade	inordinate	salivate	succulent
scenario	rehearsal	permanent	frequent

1. After years of wandering, Kevin looked forward to finding a _____ home.
2. As the moose meat cooked over the open fire, he could see the dog begin to _____.
3. The fugitive managed to _____ capture for more than three years.
4. “That is the most _____ steak I have ever eaten,” Marjorie exclaimed.
5. No one in their group could imagine a more difficult _____.
6. The director was aghast at the choir's performance during their last _____ before the gala opening.
7. My brother and I were _____ participants in the local six mile races.
8. We had an _____ amount of garbage to take to the dump.

Questions

1. What is the setting of the story for the first chapter?

2. Brian was now ____ years old. The adventures described in the novel, Hatchet, had taken place ____ years before the events described in Brian's Hunt.

3. Why do you think that often when a person goes through a stressful situation (like Brian did in Hatchet), they often remember mainly the good or funny things that happened to them during this time?

4. Why didn't Brian kill the moose?

5. Brian had spent three weeks with the Cree family he had found at the end of his first winter in the bush. True or False

6. What was Susan Smallhorn's Cree name and why was she given this particular name when she was little?

7. We have several clues as to the Canadian province in which this novel is set. Where is it probably set? What are the clues as to the setting?

Language Activities

A. Anagrams

An anagram is a word that is formed by changing the order of the letters of another word. For example, the letters in the word WAS can also form the word SAW. Follow these directions to form the anagrams:

a) read the clue in the right-hand column.

b) Using the word in the left-hand column move the letters around in any order, but you must use all the letters. All of the words in the left-hand column can be found in the first chapter of Brian's Hunt.

Word	Anagram	Clue
crash		Scorches.
bear		Naked.
trees		To guide or direct.
logs		Toil; labor.
states		Relishes.
forth		Foam.
points		A part of a car engine.

Now find two additional words from the first chapter which have interesting anagrams to see if you can stump a classmate.

Word	Anagram	Clue

Good to Know ~ The Moose

The moose is the largest member of the deer family. Unlike most other deer species the moose is a solitary animal and do not form herds. The moose ranges over many part of northern Canada and Alaska, although its population has been declining in recent years. The moose is a herbivore and eats many types of plants, especially aquatic plants. A male moose can weigh up to 1500 lbs (700 kg).

B. The Quatrain Poem.

The quatrain is a popular form of rhymed verse. It is a poem of four lines, is usually light and can be humorous. The following famous quatrain entitled The Rude Moose was written by the famous poet, Atrocious Halitosis.

*The northern moose is a hideous beast,
Twelve hundred pounds (to say the least).
He roams the woods and muddy streams,
All wet and rude – it's in his genes.*

Various rhyming schemes make up a quatrain poem. As you can see, the above four lines have a rhyming scheme of A – A – B – B. Other rhyming schemes include: ABAB, AAAA, AABA, ABBA, ABBB, and AAAB.

Your task is to write your own quatrain poem. You may choose a rhyming scheme that fits with your own personal creation. The theme should have something to do with the themes established in the first chapter of our novel.

The Quatrain Poem

Now create your own Quatrain Poem. Your poem must follow the format of a quatrain poem described above (and must rhyme).

Title: _____

C. Personification is giving human qualities to something that is not human. The following is an example taken from Chapter One: That was south. Ugly and wrong.

Describe how the south is personified in this example.

Create your own example of personification.

As you continue to read through the novel be on the lookout for other examples of this literary device. If you should find one, come back to this question and enter it below.

D. Many authors enjoy using alliteration – a literary device where the author repeats the same sound at the beginning of several words. Here's one such example: from Chapter One: ... a wild, careening, ripping ride...

Using your imagination, create your own examples of alliteration from the following topics. Each example must contain a minimum of three words.

A loon.
A police siren.
Your choice.

Extension Activity

Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A story-board can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel. Complete the story-board below illustrating the events described in the first chapter of our novel. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.
