Suggestions and Expectations

This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on two chapters of No Talking and is comprised of five of the following different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to

- a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
- b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
- c) compare and contrast two characters;
- d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;
- e) drawing inferences from the text;
- f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Themes which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include bullying, sportsmanship, peer pressure, civil disobedience, the power of words – both spoken and unspoken.

Synopsis

Who can talk less for two whole days, boys or girls? The fifth graders at Laketon Elementary are the noisiest class in history, so when Dave Packer challenges Lynsey Burgess to a boys vs. girls “no talking” contest, it's not going to be easy for either side.

Teachers and school administrators are in an uproar, until one creative teacher sees the kids' experiment as a unique opportunity to look at language and communication in a fresh way – and that's when things get really interesting. (The Publisher)

Chapters 1-2

Before you read the chapter:

The greatness of a nation can be judged by the way its animals are treated. (Gandhi)
Gandhi makes an interesting point in this quotation, but how else do you think a nation might be judged? Be sure to support your answer with at least one reason or example.

Vocabulary:

Choose a word from the list to complete each sentence.

opinion	disgusted	explanation	industry
culture	independent	violence	incredible

7. Setting the school record in the long jump is quite an _____ feat.
8. What possible _____ could there be for being so late for class?

Questions

1. What is the setting of Chapter One?

2. Investigate: a famous quote from Mahatma Gandhi is found on the previous page. Using resources in your school library or the Internet, find another quote from this great man and record it below – then state why it appealed to you.

Quote:
Why I found it interesting:

3. Other than remaining quiet for a day, what might be another way to clear one's mind and help a person think better? (You may wish to brainstorm ideas with a colleague before answering.)

4. Why was Dave's determination not to talk at that time most unfortunate for poor Lynsey?

5. To what did Mrs. Overby attribute Dave's coughing fit?

6. Dave was surprised to find that keeping quiet was very easy to do. True or False

7. What was the reason that Gandhi refused to speak on one day of each week?

8. You already know quite a bit about the main character of the novel, Dave Packer, but how would you get along with him if he was in your class at school? In the chart below list one thing you would probably enjoy about having Dave as a classmate (Positive), and one thing that would probably annoy you (Negative).

Positive ++
Negative --

Good to Know

Dave is quite impressed with the accomplishments of the peace activist, Gandhi in these chapters. Mohandas Gandhi (1869-1948) was the leader of Indian nationalism in British-ruled India. As is mentioned in the novel, Gandhi used nonviolent civil disobedience to lead India to independence and was an inspiration for civil rights around the world. Gandhi is commonly, though not officially, considered the Father of the Nation in India. His birthday on October 2 is a national holiday. Sadly, Gandhi was assassinated by an extremist in 1948.

Language Activity

A. Many authors enjoy using alliteration – a literary device where the author repeats the same sound at the beginning of several words. Here's one such example: from Chapter One "... Monday morning in the middle of November." Using your imagination, create your own examples of alliteration from the following topics. Each example must contain a minimum of three words.

The sound of thunder
A speeding train
Your own example

B. Chapter Two contains an important literary device called a cliffhanger. A cliffhanger usually occurs at the end of a chapter when the author leaves the reader in suspense. How is this true in Chapter Two? Why do you think the author ended the chapter this way?

C. Place the following words from these chapters in alphabetical order.

Monday	2.
morning	3.
next	4.
mouth	5.
measure	6.
minutes	7.
land	8.
mind	9.
library	10.

Extension Activities

A. Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A storyboard can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel.

Complete the storyboard below illustrating the events described in this section of No Talking. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.

1	2
3	4

B. Quintet

Unlike quintuplet (a set of five children born to the same mother at one birth), a quintet is a five-line verse that tells a story. The quintet has a syllable pattern and has the wonderful ability of bringing a visual image to life for the reader.

Here is the structure of the quintet:

A Creative Title

Line 1 – tells when ~ and has 3 syllables

Line 2 – tells where ~ and has 5 syllables

Line 3 – tells what ~ and has 7 syllables

Line 4 – describes activity ~ and has 9 syllables

Line 5 – contains a relevant thought ~ and has 3 syllables

An Example!

Here is an example of a Quintet take from the poem, Jack and Jill.

Jack and Jill

*Dinner time,
Up a hill they went,
To fetch a pail of water,
Then Jack and Jill tumbled down the hill,
Poor old Jack.*

Now try your hand at writing a quintet which contains some of the important details from the first two chapters of this novel.
